

Ho! for the Mines!

---

THE MINES THAT OFFER THE BEST INDUCEMENTS.

---

WILLIAM PILLING, late of Carriboo, having spent the winter in Portland, during which time he has been industriously engaged in collecting statistics of the different mining regions which offer the best inducements to the miners, on SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 2, 1870, at HARMONY HALL, near the Post Office, on First street, will deliver a lecture on the subject of

“THE BEST MINES TO GO TO,”

in which he will detail the latest authentic reports from Peace River, Idaho, Montana and Eastern Oregon, and their commercial effect towards the City of Portland.

As the lecturer will be at considerable expense for printing, hall, lights, distributing notices, etc., he has placed the charge of admission at Fifty Cents to defray expenses.

As his object is solely to enlighten his fellow miners upon a subject vital to their mutual interests, he expects to see all at present in the City, who may intend visiting the mines this spring, as also, those who may be commercially interested therein, as he verily believes he has important information for them.

[Himes & Daly, Printers.]