NOVELISTS - PUBLICISTS - ADVENTURERS ALL

MARK SULLIVAN, internationally famous Washington journalist, whose reporting of events transpiring in Washington and elsewhere has attracted the world for more than a quarter of a century, has consented to make a limited number of personal appearances, interpreting the important events transpiring in the world. His books, "Our Times," have set a new standard of historic writing.

JOHN LANGDON-DAVIES, British publicist, author "The New Age of Faith"; "A History of Woman"; "Man and His Universe"; "Man Comes of Age"; and many magazine articles is one of the most gifted speakers ever to come to America from England. A student of British politics, he brings an up-to-the-minute account of what is the situation in the British Empire.

EMIL LENGYEL, Budapest born and educated, now living in America, spends his summers in Europe. He writes for leading European newspapers as well as leading American newspapers, interpreting to Europe the problems of America and to America the problems and conditions in Europe. His recent book on Hitler and the German scene has attracted favorable attention. A most successful speaker.

VERA CURTIS of Metropolitan Opera House fame has proved a sensational success in her "A Season at the Metropolitan," a combination of lecture, stories, excellent music, woven into a harmonious whole unsurpassed on the platform. Her career for seven seasons at the Metropolitan Opera House and as soloist with leading orchestras guarantees her thorough musicianship. An excellent speaker and story teller. Her success guaranteed.

WILLIAM L. FINLEY, naturalist, author, explorer, big game hunter, photographer and lecturer, brings to his audiences each season unusual pictures taken in various parts of the United States, Canada, Alaska and Mexico. He has photographed the wild life on this continent as no other explorer or photographer has ever done, and presents an interesting and thrilling story of wild life.

ANTHONY EUWER is an author, artist and lecturer who weaves into his platform appearances some good poetry, clever caricature, scintillating humor and wholesome philosophy. In his lecture, "We Who Create," he supplements his talk with a portable collection of his own works in water color, line drawings and humorous decorative sketches. In "Let's Go a Rhyming," he has gathered together those rhymes that have proved their "sure fire" on the platform and has arranged them into a delightful program. We invariably receive the finest reports wherever Anthony Euwer appears, and these comments not only praise the artistry but call specific attention to the uniqueness and versatility of Mr. Euwer's program.

THEODORE GRAHAM, lecturer, educator, is one of the best known authorities on Immigration in America today. He has been an intensive investigator of immigration laws and immigration conditions. For years he has spent much time at Washington investigating original documentary sources but more especially in personal contact with the government officials who do the making and enforcing of immigration laws. Among his lectures are "Making America American," "A Visit to Ellis Island" and "Women Without a Country."

DR. LEVI T. PENNINGTON, D.D., President of Pacific College, noted educator, journalist and lecturer. His lectures are timely, logical, eloquent and convincing. He speaks upon topics of foremost interest to his audiences. Among his subjects are "Education and Democracy," "War on War," "Whose Son," "Glimpses of Our English Cousins."

RUTH ST. DENIS, in Lecture Recitals and in full dance program recitals. The advent of Ruth St. Denis into the lecture field makes available to clubs, schools and colleges, the foremost American dancer of the day. It also offers a woman who is undoubtedly the foremost living authority on the subjects Miss Denis has selected for her talks.

WHITING WILLIAMS, author, lecturer, industrial consultant, is one of the World's noted authorities on labor problems. An able speaker. Topics: "Stalin, Mussolini or Roosevelt, Which Has the Answer?"; "Give Us This Day Our Daily Job!"; "Unemployment and Prohibition"; "What's on the Workless Worker's Mind?"; "What's Industry Doing to Us?"; "Who's Boss — Man or Machine?"

MARY AUSTIN, whose more than twenty-five well known books, the last her autobiography under the title, "Earth Horizon," have made her name known to all book and magazine readers, now consents to deliver a limited number of lectures. Mrs. Austin will speak from experiences in one of the most interesting lives lived by any woman in this country. She is terse, original, witty and prophetic.

RICHARD HALLIBURTON has continued his adventures throughout the world, recently returning from an airplane trip around the world which took more than a year. Never before has he lectured so well as during the past season. His story is packed with dramatic achievement, literary beauty and all the enthusiasm of youth. His new lecture, "The Flying Carpet," is without doubt his best.

WILL IRWIN, one of America's most famous publicists and journalists, who during the World War was called the Ace of American War Correspondents, is known to nearly every American. He speaks as well as he writes upon topics always of foremost interest to his audiences. Among his lectures are, "The Next War," "Tainted Truth," and "The Art of Muddledment."

ARTHUR KALLET, co-author of "100,000,000 Guinea Pigs" which has been one of the best sellers. Mr. Kallet, is an engineer, and a member of the board of the directors of Consumers Research, Inc., and has been engaged in writing and editorial work on scientific and engineering subjects for some years. Those who have read this book, will want to present Mr. Kallet.

C. SCOTT HOWLAND, Scion of Whaling Ancestry, lectures on "Hunting Whales" the most gigantic creatures in the world, with slender harpoons, requires skill and daring. This story is a vigorous one and is told in inspirational style. A truly remarkable lecture illustrated authentically at a cost of $50,000. The type of story that modern intellectual audiences demand.

MAJOR-GENERAL U. G. McALEXANDER, who is well known as "The Rock of the Marne." Just returned from three years travel around the world. Famous speaker and noted authority on national and international problems. In great demand for his "Discussion of Legislative Reform Needs."
