

THE AMERICAN NATURE
ASSOCIATION was organized to stimulate public interest in every phase of Nature and dedicated to the conservation of the great natural resources of this country. To that end it devotes a section of Nature Magazine each month to the expression of practical and militant opinions on the vital issues affecting our use and abuse of these resources.